The Art of Communication for organizations

Teams that can disagree and still trust each other

Communication training for leaders and teams, from relational friction to collaborative flow, led by Danny Cohen: Wharton graduate, NVC trainer and core faculty of the Evolve Foundation since 2019.

TEAMS WE'VE WORKED WITH INCLUDE

DiDi Global · Evolve Foundation · East Rock Capital · Lionheart Ventures · Institute for Jewish Spirituality

What your team walks away with

Listening that builds trust

Hear criticism without getting defensive and stay steady with a colleague who is upset.

Feedback that's honest and lands

A simple four-step framework so problems get raised early instead of piling up.

Disagreements that move forward

Get underneath positions to what each person needs, so people back the decision.

A team culture you choose together

The team agrees its own principles and small experiments that keep the learning going.

How we work

1 Listen first

Conversations with leaders and team members, so the program fits your team's real situations.

2 Train together

In person or online. Short demonstrations, then lots of practice on real work conversations.

3 Make it stick

Follow-up team sessions, leadership check-ins and one-on-one coaching.

Ways to work together

Workshops

Online or in person, with two or more facilitators.

Online half day $3,250 · In person half day $5,000 · Full day $15,000

Full communication training

Three-day in-person training, virtual integration sessions and coaching support.

From about $60,000

Executive coaching

One-on-one support for leaders, plus NVC-based mediation.

$1,000 per hour · Monthly retainer $4,000

Flexible rates

Travel is extra for in-person work. Leaders doing meaningful work without the budget yet are welcome to ask about flexible rates.

"There is one modality I recommend to everyone without reservation, and that is NVC. Danny brings not only his deep knowledge but also his compassion and presence."

Bo Shao, Chairman, Evolve Ventures and Foundation
